

Sellek Voted Top PR Professional, Harbor Rises to No. 2 Firm in the MIRS Capitol Insider Survey

"In those 10 prior surveys, the top public relations professional had always been Truscott or Rossman-McKinney. Sellek is the first to break that streak."

Relations Professional and, after just six years, Harbor Strategic rose to 2nd place as the Most Effective PR Firm in the 2025 MIRS News Capitol Insider Survey.

MIRS reported that it first "conducted this survey in 2004 and every odd-numbered year from 2007 to the present. In those 10 prior surveys, the top public relations professional had always been Truscott or Rossman-McKinney."

"Sellek is the first to break that streak."

The 2025 biannual MIRS Capitol Insider Survey includes votes from hundreds of capitol professionals, including elected officials, legislative staff, lobbyists, association and non-profit leaders, corporate government relations teams, attorneys, and state and local government executives. It was conducted over the last month.

"To even be mentioned in the same breath as legends like Kelly and John is an honor because they have been role models as I pursued a communications career," said Sellek. "Thank you to the Harbor team and, most importantly, our clients for giving us opportunities to serve."
